

The Kesterbeek Walk

Walk of the month

As you stroll through the hilly countryside, it's impossible not to be awed by the gorgeous vistas of valleys, the Pajottenland, and the Brussels skyline. The Oud Beersel Brewery is on your way. Book a guided tour and tasting in advance, or knock back a geuze in their authentic alehouse. This walk goes perfectly with a Beersel Castle visit. Or you could try a second geuze at the 3 Fonteynen Brewer's Lambik-O-droom, just a little further on.

7x Scherpenheuvel-Zichem

Belgium's most sacred space

Scherpenheuvel-Zichem is to the northeast of the province of Flemish Brabant, about 50 km from the heart of Brussels. And for centuries, it's been Belgium's most popular pilgrimage site. It's especially in May that pilgrims from all over the globe flock to this little town to light candles and pray. Have you been yet? Here are seven reasons why you should:

1. Belgium's most famous basilica
2. 900 years of history
3. Ice cream and a stroll
4. Ernest Claes' stomping grounds
5. Gravel grind your way through Hageland
6. Medieval watchtower
7. Kidtastic walk

125 years AfricaMuseum

What's new?

Node-to-node network

In 2023, the Royal Museum for Central Africa (AfricaMuseum) in Tervuren is turning 125 years old. It has also been 5 years since the museum reopened its doors after a renovation. The institution has thus chosen this year to organize activities focusing on the museum's role in the past, present and future. From May to December 2023, various activities will be organised at the AfricaMuseum and other locations. 🤗

From now on, you can also use the handy node-to-node network planner in English and other languages. The node-to-node walking network is an ingenious – but simple! – navigation system for hiking enthusiasts. Look out for the red and white signs along the road signposting the nodes. You can plan your own walks using the handy route planner. And now it's available in four languages! 📍
